GYPSY GIRL IS WITH PARENTS

MYSTERY OF STOLEN INDIAN GIRL THOUGHT SOLVED.

IS HELD AT BARNARD

Causes Lots of Trouble for Authorities in Two States and Worries Newspaper Men.

Who ever heard of a gypsy being kidnapped? And that is not all—a radio station broadcasting for her recovery. It isn't being done in this day and age when gypsy bands travel in high-powered automobiles. But seemingly this seems to have been a case, which would have made a wonderful story, in which it was first reported that an Indian commissioner, United States Marshal, local sheriff, the Shenandoah radio station, KFNF, and the Sioux City Journal all involved in the recovery of this young girl.

Whatever the results have been—and nothing exciting happened—Sheriff Lowell B. Campbell of Nodaway County was kept busy on the wire Sunday night and part of the morning trying to get information enough to work up a case.

But the strange part of it is that from the information, meager as it has been, that a girl about 10 years old, was kidnapped and in telling her story to Sheriff Campbell and his deputies, substantiated the charge, as well as did her parents, but said that she was with her rightful parents and that the man who kidnapped her was in custody with the gypsy band, which at that time, Sunday night, was encamped near Barnard.

This case, which was taken up by the Sioux City Journal, but dropped yesterday, arose from reports that Friday, gypsies by the name of Davis sent a message to Henry Field to broadcast that their daughter had been kidnapped. The gypsies were at that time at McClelland, Ia.

The first reports received at Sioux City, according to Leonard Orth of the Sioux City Journal, were that Fred Davis of Sioux City, United States marshal, had requested that the news be broadcast and that he was trying to locate the girl. Also an Indian commissioner at Winnebago, Nebr., was someway mixed up in the affair and he was making an effort to locate the girl. It was later learned authentically that both men denied any knowledge of the kidnapping.

However, during all the time this fuss was astiring, Sheriff Campbell was called by the Journal at Sioux City. He could not get any definite information. But he had located a band of gypsies at Barnard during the picnic there and deputies John Rasco and Lloyd Heifner, held on suspicion for a couple of hours, a girl by the name of Davis.

The girl's name turned out to be Mary Lulu Davis and she said she was with her rightful parents and her parents refused to file any charges. So the gypsies were released by the county authorities and now the case has been dropped. It was said by the gypsies, according to information received by the sheriff, that the girl had been kidnapped but the man who had kidnapped her was traveling with the band of gypsies, of whom her parents were members.

This little incident raised havoc with the sheriff's effort to gain a little sleep after being out over the county day and night since Thursday and as the case turned out it threw cold water on the reporter's belief "that a wonderful story" had broken. But such is the life in Nodaway County during the hot summer months when news is dull—and thus this explanation.

The Shenandoah Sentinel-World has the following to say about the gypsy episode:

"The mystery of the stolen Indian girl is solved. At least it is as near solved as the truth regarding affairs dealing with gypsies can ever be sifted.

"Lula Davis, daughter of George Davis, an Indian who is traveling with a gypsy band was restored to her parents in Missouri during the week end. The gypsies who were arrested here and held for questioning in regard to the missing child after KFNF radio station had been asked to broadcast her description were interviewed by Lloyd Heifner, deputy sheriff of Nodaway County, Maryville again yesterday when they stopped at a picnic at Barnard, Mo. to tell fortunes.

"According to the story Davis told the officials, he owns a reservation in Colorado but has been traveling across country with the band of men and women all of whom are gypsies except Davis himself. At Sioux City he missed his little daughter but thought she was in some of the other of the "hundred cars" motoring with the modernized gypsy band. Davis became separated from the crowd and he became uneasy about her and asked KFNF to broadcast a description of his child. Later he caught up with the party and found her all right, traveling in another automobile.

"Davis rejoined the roving tribe and exonerated them from any blame in connection with the little girl being lost."

ONLY 1 CASE OF DISEASE

ACCORDING TO JULY REPORT OF HEALTH DEPARTMENT.

BIRTHS EXCEED DEATHS

Also Births Increase Ten During July, 1925, Over the Same Period Last Year.

That the county has been comparatively free from contagious diseases this summer is evident from the report of the county health department in the report for July by Dr. C. P. Fryer, county health officer, wherein only one case is noted. This is a case of diphtheria. No death resulted and there are no other contagious diseases reported to the health department for the month.

The birth date for the month of July this year shows an increase of ten for the corresponding month last year, there being sixty-nine births reported to the health department during July this year, as compared to fifty-nine last year for the same period. Births exceeded deaths in July by thirty-nine. Thirty deaths were noted by the health department from the reports made by the registrars throughout the county. This is an increase of thirteen deaths over the same month in 1924.

Dr. C. P. Fryer, in his report, gives a summary of the activities of the health department for the month of July as follows:

"During the month of July the rules and regulations of the state board of health were carried out. Eleven lectures were delivered at the State Teachers College. Health subjects were discussed with special reference to the sanitation in schools, besides personal hygiene and the control of communicable diseases. Contagious disease charts were given each teacher. The subject of 'Heat and Ventilation' was particularly stressed.

"Several conferences were held with school directors in regard to improving the lighting and general sanitary conditions at their respective schools. A pre-school clinic was held at Conception Junction in co-operation with the Red Cross nutritional worker.

"Baby clinics have been held each Saturday at the county health department office here. Several water samples were sent to the state board of health laboratory at Jefferson City. Many rural schools have been visited and recommendations made for sanitary improvements, such as water supply and sanitary toilets."

One Man Shot in Klan Disturbance

Framingham, Mass., Aug. 11.—An outbreak of serious disorders in Sudbury, near here, broke out when following a Ku Klux Klan meeting Alonzo Foley of Saxonville was probably fatally wounded and five others seriously injured when shot down by ambush. Sixteen alleged members of the Klan were held on bonds of $200 each for hearing next week when arranged in the district court today. The sixteen men are charged with intent to kill.

Charges against four anti-Klansmen were dropped "for lack of evidence." The prisoners were marched to the courthouse from the local police station between state and local police guards.

Foley was shot through the left temple and is in a serious condition.

"CINDERELLA" WOULD BE NUN

BROWNING'S PRO TEM DAUGHTER WOULD FORGET ALL.

ADOPTION ANNULED

Papers Releasing Browning "of Any Responsibility" Signed Today—All Seemed Pleased.

New York, Aug. 11.—While Edward Browning was preparing to go before the district judge to have his adoption of Mary Louise Spas invalidated, news came from Newark, N. J., that his "Cinderella," heartbroken over the notoriety that has come to her, was trying to become a nun.

She presented herself at the orphanage of St. John the Baptists at Newark, according to information this morning and asked to be taken in. She was accompanied by her parents Mr. and Mrs. Spas, both of whom are Catholics. Mary Louise was informed that this institution was not a convent but an orphanage. Mary Louise and her parents then went to the Dominican order in Newark where she told her story tearfully and requested to be allowed to become a nun.

"This is a serious step you are taking," the father informed the girl. "It is something you must consider seriously." Then he advised the Spas to go home and talk the matter over thoroughly. Somewhat happier in spirits Mary Louise departed for Jamaica, presumably to attend the court hearing on the question to annul her adoption.

The grounds for invalidating the adoption was Mary Louise's age. It was admitted today that she was 21. Browning, Mary Louise, and her parents all agreed that the adoption should be declared void. The 50-year-old millionaire was relieved of "all further responsibility and support of Mary Louise."

The formal agreement was signed by all parties concerned and countersigned by the court. Browning was all smiles and seemed to be greatly relieved when the papers were signed. Mary Louise seemed to be just as happy over the ending of the episode as Browning was. After the formal signing of the papers voiding the adoption all of the principals of the case left the office together leaving by the backdoor of the courtroom.

IS SUING FOR $2,500 DAMAGE

ALICE FOX BRINGS SUIT AGAINST CHARLES LONG.

INJURED IN ACCIDENT

Was Thrown From Carriage and Suffers Dislocated Arm—Attachment Suit Filed Today.

Alleging that careless and negligent driving of an automobile caused her horse, which she was driving January 2, 1925, a mile and a half west of Skidmore, to jump and throw her out of the buggy and result in injuries, Alice Fox today filed a damage suit in circuit court against Charles Long, both of the vicinity of Skidmore, suing for $2,500. The suit was filed for the October term of court.

The plaintiff claims in her petition that she was riding in a buggy on a highway west of Skidmore on January 2, driving a horse, and she was driving in close proximity to the edge of the road, along which runs a drainage ditch. It is her claim that the defendant approached from the opposite direction at a high rate of speed in an automobile, on the wrong side of the road, and that he did not turn out until within a foot of the head of the horse which she was driving; and also that he failed to slacken his speed or turn the car reasonably to the right so as to permit passing in safety.

It is the contention of the plaintiff that the defendant drove so close to her horse and carriage that it caused the animal to jump sidewise to escape from being struck by the defendant's vehicle. When the horse jumped, she states in her petition, the buggy was overturned, throwing her with force and violence out of the buggy into the drainage ditch and casting her upon the frozen ground, greatly injuring her and by reason of the fall her right arm was dislocated at the shoulder joint.

The plaintiff states she continues to suffer great pain and that ever since the accident she has been deprived of the use of her right arm. She further contends she has not been able to attend to duties as housekeeper. Also that she was obliged to obligate herself in the sum of $200 for doctor's services and expenses for seven days in a hospital because of the injury. By reason of the negligent act and conduct of Long the plaintiff seeks damages to the extent of $2,500.

An attachment suit was filed in the office of the clerk of the circuit court by the Bank of Hopkins today against Ethyl Warren. The plaintiff alleges the defendant gave a note for $2,600 on March 8, 1920, on which sums in the amount of $156, $139.70, and $621 have been paid but the remainder remains unpaid.

Thursday of this week is the last day for filing suits in circuit court in order to get service by publication for the October term of the Nodaway County Circuit Court.

TORNADO HITS CALIF. TOWN

LOSS FROM WIND AND HAIL ESTIMATED OVER 1½ MILLION.

20 BUILDINGS WRECKED

Little Town of Rockwood Suffers $150,000 Property Loss—Flying Timbers Injure Five.

Brawley, Calif., Aug. 11.—The counties of southern California were checking up their losses today following a severe wind and hail storm of terrific violence culminating into a tornado which practically leveled the little settlement of Rockwood, five miles from here where five persons were injured by flying timbers.

The corn and cotton crops in the stricken area are badly damaged. The damage was estimated today to be in excess of a million, five hundred thousand dollars. Coalinga, in Kings County, was struck with a severe electrical storm which ignited an oil company's reservoir containing 750,000 barrels of oil.

Rockwood, Calif., Aug. 11.—This little Imperial Valley town was ripped off its foundation late yesterday when two tornadoes met. A cloudburst added to the damage.

A check-up tonight of property losses estimated at about $150,000 revealed that only two of the town's approximately twenty buildings were resting on their original sites and that five of the five hundred inhabitants were nursing minor injuries.

Streets still were under water tonight as the result of the downpour, and the sky was black at sunset as a howling gale presaged more trouble and kept most residents within easy jumping distances of irrigation ditches.

It was these ditches, witnesses of yesterday's disaster say, that saved hundreds from severe injury and possible death. By taking to the trenches when they saw the two funnel-shaped clouds approaching, those in the path of the wind kept their heads below the line of flying timbers.

The fact that two tornadoes met at Rockwood is believed to have saved Brawley, four miles from here, and other Imperial Valley towns from damage. The twisters tore a path one-half mile wide and four miles long before they collided.

A freak feature of the storm was the fall of hail that accompanied it. Chickens were slaughtered by the hundreds.

Families whose homes suffered nothing worse than comparatively gentle removal to new sites are aiding less fortunate neighbors. Food is a problem, but shelter is not causing so much anxiety, for the temperature was 108 degrees at noon yesterday.

Visit School Where Lighting Is Changed

From reports from the county superintendent of schools, Leslie G. Somerville, several rural school buildings every week are being remodeled in this county so that the lighting system conforms with the requirements of the state department of education for first class schools as far as the lighting is concerned.

Mr. Somerville reported today that he visited at the Hagey school yesterday, conferring there with the school board of that district, which is having the windows changed to permit the admission of light as recommended by the state department. Mr. Somerville also stopped at the Star school where the windowing lighting system has already been changed this summer. Mr. Somerville was accompanied on his trip yesterday by J. C. Godbey, state high school and rural inspector for this county.

Several interesting entertainment features were given, among them being poems composed on "Apples" and "The Village Choir" under the direction of Edwin Goodspeed.

BOY PAROLES ARE REVOKED

23 FROM BOONVILLE REFORMATORY TO BE RETURNED.

DUE TO NEW CRIMES

St. Louis Police Ordered To Round Up All Paroled Boys There—Governor Suggests Action.

Boonville, Aug. 11.—Twenty-three paroles granted to inmates of the state reformatory here have been revoked by Superintendent C. M. Harrison, it was learned today. Most of the youths are understood now to be in St. Louis.

The revoking of paroles followed a survey by the chief of police at St. Louis after a number of paroled youths from the institution had been arrested for major crimes in St. Louis.

This information was submitted to Governor Baker.

St. Louis, Aug. 11.—Police today were rounding up twenty-three paroled youths from the Boonville State Reformatory whose freedom was cut short by an executive order from Governor Baker revoking their paroles.

Within the first hour after the executive order had been received five boys were returned to jail. Severe criticism of the parole system at the reformatory was believed to have been responsible for the governor's action.

C. M. Harrison, superintendent of the reformatory, dispatched the order to St. Louis police acting under the direct suggestion of Governor Baker that the "reformatory situation be remedied immediately."

"We are going to take action at once," said Harrison, "I'm tired of being called on the telephone and told that paroled boys have been caught in new crimes.

BELGIUM WILL PAY U. S. DEBT

SUBMITS PLAN TO DEBT-FUNDING COMMISSION TODAY.

OUTLOOK IS FAVORABLE

Joint Meeting of Commission And Belgian Negotiators This Afternoon Promises Agreement.

Washington, Aug. 11.—Belgium laid before the American debt-funding commission today a plan by which the Belgian war debt of 481 million dollars can be settled.

Belgian envoys met this afternoon for two hours and a half and when the session was adjourned it was announced that the American funding commission would meet at 3 o'clock. This session will be followed by another joint session with the Belgian negotiators at 4 o'clock.

Belgium will ask her creditors to take into consideration exceptional war and post-war conditions, Baron de Cartier, the Belgian ambassador said today in presenting the Belgian debt commissioners to the American commission.

Replying, Secretary Mellon, chairman of the American commission, said the United States would not ask Belgium to do the impossible, but that the funding of the debt would be a recognition of the integrity of international obligations and "the settlement of a question which might disturb the long friendship of our nations".

Ambassador de Cartier said the adoption and normal functioning of the Dawes plan, although it would give to Belgium "only a small share of what we are entitled to and the gradual curtailment of governmental expenditures, gave Belgium reason to hope that she would succeed in her persevering efforts to place her finances on a sound basis.

Belgium would have taken up earlier with the United States the funding of her debt, he continued, "but for the non-fulfillment of many solemn pledges given to her people during the war."

"The situation so created," he added, "was made even more critical by the fact that, during the four years of occupation, Belgium was forced to pay Germany, under the form of war levies in cash and as a result of the imposed use of German currency, a tribute which now amounts to a loss of nearly 2 billion dollars.

"You are also aware of the sums which we had to spend to rebuild our devastated regions and to restore our wantonly destroyed factories."

Calling attention that "crushing post-war taxes" had been levied upon the Belgian people, the ambassador said that relying on the sense of justice of which the American nation had given them so many proofs, the Belgian people sought funding of the debt, "inspired by the recollection of the nature and history of our debts, as well as by the just comprehension of our economic and financial difficulties created by an unjust war of which we were the innocent victims."

Secretary Mellon in his reply said Belgians could rest assured that their position "will have the most sympathetic and friendly consideration by our commission."

THE ONLY DAILY PAPER IN NODAWAY COUNTY

VACATION MONTH.

Winter resorts, summer resorts, spring and fall resorts and all-year-round resorts make every month a vacation month and every season vacation month of the majority. August means vacation month of the majority. August means crowded highways and shore hotels, loaded passenger boats and "Occupied" camping grounds and cottages.

The vacation now belongs to everybody, but it does not mean the same thing for all. Some get out of a vacation everything a vacation offers. Others experience few or none of these vacation joys and benefits. The fault is in the vacationist, not in the vacation. The success or failure of a vacation depends in great part upon the preparation of the individual for this leave-of-absence from the cares of business.

A change of scenery and associations is the first requirement of a successful vacation. The mountaineer must choose the seashore or the plain, the city man must choose the country, and vice versa. A vacation ceases to be a vacation when it is spent at home where every object and person suggests the routine from which the vacation is intended to give surcease.

After the place has been chosen and the time has arrived for the departure it is essential that the vacationist throw himself into the business of having a vacation as vigorously as he applies himself to the business of making a living during the other fifty weeks of the year. One must take a vacation seriously if a complete divorce from workaday things is to be obtained.

A vacation returns only what is put into it. Some people fail to get the utmost out of a vacation for the same reason that they fail in every other enterprise they undertake.

The two principal causes of divorce are men and women.

A man who has been out of luck never gets on his feet by sitting around.

Everything has its good points. They say taking a deep breath for a long kiss develops a girl's lungs.

The rising rubber market reminds us that NOW is a good time to get your last year's rubbers vulcanized.

People don't care much about what the average man believes so long as he doesn't bother the whole town with it.

United States Senator Williams has bought a new $100,000 home but he has bought it in St. Louis and not in Washington yet.

Did you ever stop to think that you can't lift a man up by sitting on him.

Auto licenses brought the state of Missouri more than six and a half million dollars during the first half of the year. Officials announce that there were as many auto licenses issued the first half of this year as in all of last year.

The mayor of an Indiana town is asking for an ordinance that will compel every resident of the town who cuts down a tree to plant another to take its place. It is not a bad idea, only it should extend beyond the limits of one town. In the Black Forest of Germany no tree is cut down to supply the industries of the district until another is ready to replace it and they are planted in rotation so that a constant supply of timber is available for wood-using industries. Switzerland also follows a similar plan. The state of Massachusetts is providing for the planting of town forests and Minnesota, New Jersey, New York, Ohio and Vermont have passed laws providing for municipal tree tracts.

A FAR REACHING INFLUENCE.

"Remember Tony Affronti." When the mob at Excelsior Springs seemed to be wavering in its purpose to take the life of a helpless negro without the processes of law, it is said that the above words acted to rekindle their frenzy and to renew their courage.

Six years ago, Tony Affronti, a Kansas City product, beat up and robbed two helpless women of Clay county. Through the skill of criminal lawyers, bondsmen, and the laxity of criminal procedure, he evaded a trial for three or four years. He was then brought to trial and given ten years in the penitentiary. So far so good. But Tony Affronti is already a trusty in Jefferson City and has apparently much liberty without self support.

A few weeks ago he was allowed to visit his relatives in Kansas City without a guard or chaperone. This seemed to greatly incense the people of Clay county and the above was frequently heard when the mob was forming to punish the negro.

There is no doubt that the failure of peace officers and courts to act with reasonable promptness and vigor increases and encourages disrespect for both the law and the courts and encourages lawlessness. The United States has more laws and less enforcement perhaps than any country on earth. And, when the people get the idea also that the penitentiary is lax in its obligations to the state and to society, the appeal to mob violence will be greatly and dangerously accelerated. Under certain conditions little things may be greatly exaggerated and assume unwarranted importance in the public mind and public officials would do well to take note of this fact and to be convinced of the far reaching influence their official conduct may have on society and on its welfare.

Speaking of evolution, you have perhaps noticed that whereas the first man blamed an apple for his downfall, the modern alibi is now a peach.—Des Moines Register.

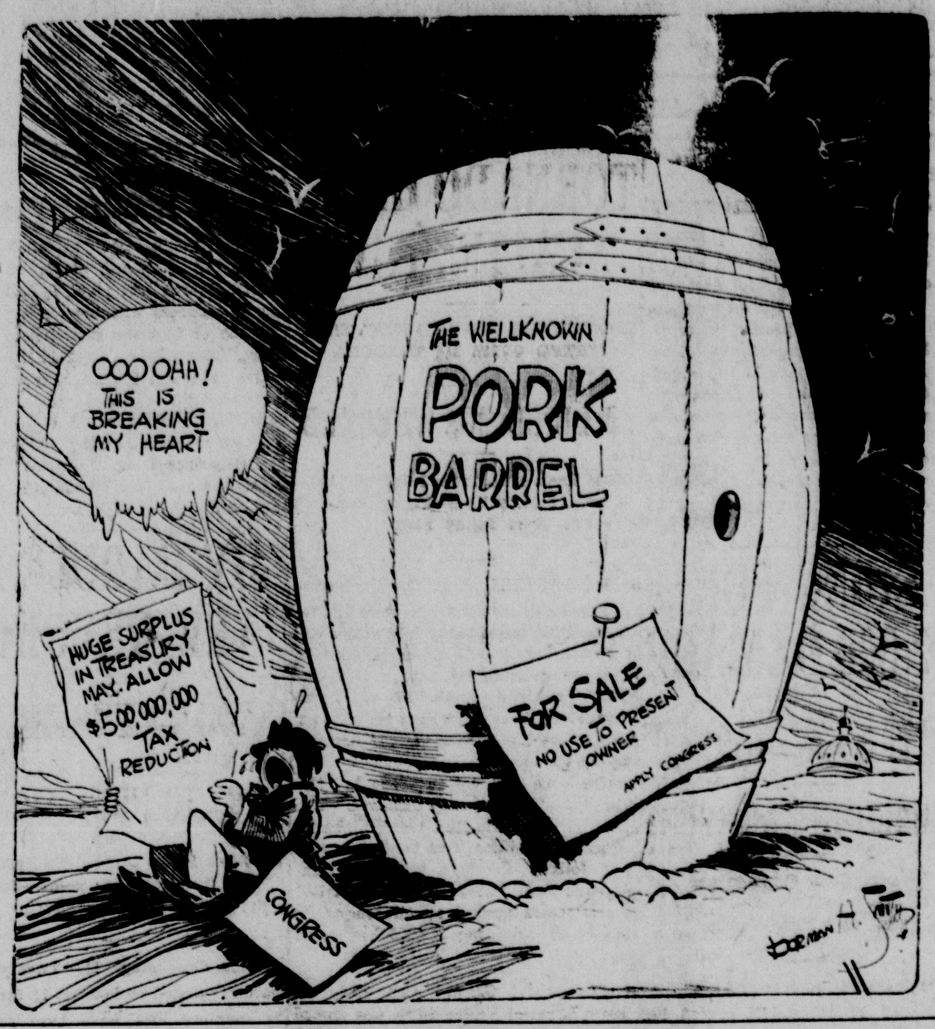
IN THE HITCHING POST CLASS.



Hobbies of the Great and Near Great in American National Life

Editor's Note: This is the eighteenth of a series of intimate sketches which reveal the national political figure as a "brother under the skin" to the man behind the plow, the white collar worker or the day laborer. Others will follow.

SENATOR FRANCIS WARREN

Three billion dollars literally trickles through his hands each year, yet he reads Government reports for pleasure.

This is one of the hobbies of Senator Francis E. Warren (R., of Wyo.), chairman of the great Senate Appropriations Committee.

Warren combines business with recreation in his reading, too, for he believes his Senatorial post requires a knowledge of every bureau activity in the Government service. His committee passes upon all appropriation bills, and, as its chairman, Warren does most of the labor. Last year the dozen or more supply bills carried a total of $3,736,000,000 and contained some 50,000 items. The Senator studied every item before giving it his approval.

Studies To Economize.

His office library includes virtually every pamphlet and booklet issued by a Government bureau.

"The head of the Appropriations Committee," he explains, "should really be conversant with every branch of the Government, with their expenditures, their needs, their deficiencies. By reading these reports I learn where to economize. I try to be informed."

When he said that some of the reading matter on his desk included "The Twenty-Third Annual Report of the United States Steel Corporation," a brief of arguments before the Supreme Court on the right of the President to remove executive officers without the consent of the Senate, and a brief on the Peruvian-Chilean dispute.

"I take these books home," he added. "They help to digest my supper though they are a little light for bedtime stories."

Warren has never told what he considers "heavy" reading.

Oldest Senator.

Eighty-one years old on June 20—the oldest member of the Senate in age and length of service and the hardest working member, in the opinion of his colleagues—Warren tosses aside his years as something for the other fellow to worry about. He has but one ambition regarding time, age and the end of the road. He wants to beat the record of both Chauncey Depew and "Uncle Joe" Cannon.

Depew is a middle-aged fellow of ninety-three and Cannon a youth of ninety, Warren says, and he'll beat them both even if they keep up their present speed for another decade or two.

"Both Depew and 'Uncle Joe' have a good start on me," said Warren. "But there's one hopeful sign. Neither of them has gained a day on me since I entered the race."

The only training the Senator undergoes for the race is to "eat three good meals a day, but never to overeat."

Sometimes he feels a little stiff, and then, he says:

"I go through a few motions, a daily half-dozen, and I feel O. K. again."

And he adds:

"That occurs very seldom."

Typifies Old West.

The Senator is a living monument to the "Old West." His physique is a testament to the fact that he was "born on a horse." He rode the Western ranges in early childhood, entered rodeos and rode roundups in youth, and even today he is a proficient horseman. Years back he rode many miles across the Western plains with Theodore Roosevelt. Today horseback riding is a little too strenuous.

"It takes too much time to prepare for riding and to get back to work," he explains. "I've given it up, except when I get out home in Wyoming."

That "out home" means a 152,000-acre ranch and a 300,000-acre range, with tens of thousands of horses, cattle and sheep. For the Senator is by turns a homebuilder, a hotel operator, a farmer, a dairyman, a sheep raiser and a cattleman. His great ranches and ranges are managed by his sons, but "Dad" puts the final O. K. on all important matters.

Owns 100 Collies.

At his Wyoming ranch Warren raises collie sheep dogs. That is another of his hobbies. He keeps from 25 to 100 collies in training all the time, using most of them on his own herds, although some are given away to his friends. And Warren loves the collies.

"I have the greatest respect for dogs," he says, "especially when I see the actions of some men who claim to belong to the human family."

Arch Edwnrds Relates Some of His Early Experiences With Frank Airy

R. J. (Arch) Edwards of Oklahoma City, Okla., writes another interesting letter about some of his early experiences in Maryville to George B. Baker of this city. Mr. Edwards is a former Maryville boy who has made a success, financially, in public securities. He located in Oklahoma City in 1892.

His letter is as follows:

"I had another long letter from Dode Carver McNaul the other day and in it she sent me a copy of an old tintype picture of Frank Airy and myself, together with the film, and I enclose you copy thereof showing a picture of Frank and myself taken in Byary's studio at a time when I was his office boy or cleaner-up. I don't know whether your memory runs back to the time when Smith & Bean had a store room on the corner of Main and Third streets right across South from the Nodaway Valley Bank building. On the rear of this lot and between this building and the old Farmers Bank building across the alley, which was run by Terhune, Jackson and Fisher, was a two-story frame structure occupied in part by the post office down stairs. The upstairs was occupied by Byary's photographic studio. Tip Geiger was postmaster and Frank Holmes was his assistant. I used to sweep out the office every morning, carry Frank's notes to his sweetheart, Anna Cushwa, whom he afterwards married, and made myself an all-round handy boy. I also swept out and cleaned Byary's studio upstairs and carried rain water from our cistern. The rain water was necessary to wash the old photographic plates. While thus employed I used to help Byary on Saturdays licking photographs and doing odd jobs and acquiring a knowledge of how to make tin type pictures. Frank and I had the gallery to ourselves one day when Byarly was away and with the assistance of Joe Kuenster we took a lot of photographs of ourselves and this was one of them. As I understand it some of Frank's brothers and I believe his nephew, still live at Maryville. It occurred to me they might be interested in seeing this picture.

"Frank Airy, who died in November, 1922, at New York City, was one of the successful men who traced their birth and boyhood back to Maryville. He stood very high in his chosen vocation, being chief clerk of the Tariff bureau of the American Railway Express company. I was in his office at the time he was preparing a tabulation of the freight rates for the Interstate Commerce Commission. He had about 400 clerks under him and for about two years was one of the busiest. He was very efficient in this work, then whom none was better, and received high commendations from the Interstate Commerce Commission for his fairness and impartiality in the performance of this duty.

"Pete Duffy is with me here in the office. In discussing this picture and Dode's letter he recalled the death of his sister at Kansas City two years ago, and in looking through her effects found some old Byarly photographs among which was one of Charles O'Conner who was postmaster at Maryville, and who disappeared from there suddenly and was gone some years, later on returning to Maryville.

"How strange and pleasant it is that the pathways of our life cross and recross so many, many times in after years in this great broad world of ours where one would think such incidents were of the remotest possibility. Here I am planning a trip this fall that will take me to Miles City, Montana, the scene of my run-away escapade in '84. I was a cowboy for John Holtson a ranch at Miles City. Also to stop off and see Lena Briggs, who now runs a hotel at Billings, Mont., and then for a visit with Fred and Had Bailey at Portland, O., with a look-in on Overton G. Ellis at Tacoma, Charles Parcher and Affie Cox at Seattle, also the Gant girls, daughters of old Captain Gant, at Tacoma, and Edna Townsend Parcher who lives close to Portland, then on down to Los Angeles, where I hope to see a lot of old ex-Maryvillians."

HIS THESIS IS PRINTED

INDICATES RESPONSE OF SOILS TO LIMING.

NODAWAY SOIL IS USED

J. Ross Fleetwood, County Extension Agent, Receives Copies From Publisher Who Prints His Work.

A test of soil, representative of Nodaway County soil, for the fertility, was shown to be second in the state, according to the nitrogen content, the bottom soil around Chillicothe being the only place where the soil fertility of Nodaway County is exceeded, according to deductions made by J. Ross Fleetwood, county extension agent, in his thesis "easily Soluble Calcium of Soils as an Indicator of Their Response to Liming."

Mr. Fleetwood's work, which was made at the Missouri Agricultural Experiment Station, was printed in the June number of a science publication, "Soil Science," volume nineteen, number six, and his has recently received seventy-five reprints from the publishing company.

In his thesis Mr. Fleetwood says:

"Many attempts have been made in the past to determine by a simple laboratory test whether or not a soil will respond profitably to the use of lime but the results obtained have not checked well with field results in all cases. It is a common observation, that some soils, which to all tests are strongly acid, will nevertheless grow excellent red clover or alfalfa without the application of lime. The degree of acidity as indicated by the common tests does not give us a true index as to the return to be expected from the application of lime.

"It seems that there must be other factors involved that may be as important as the degree of acidity in the determination of the need of a soil for lime. Why some soils give good returns for liming while others showing the same degree of acidity do not, is a question that has not been satisfactorily answered. It was for the purpose of further investigating this phase of the problem and correlating the soluble calcium with actual field results from the use of lime that the present study was undertaken.

Method of Computing Returns From Lime.

"In order to figure the returns from lime on as nearly an equivalent basis as possible, a money value was set for each crop; wheat $1.00 a bushel, oats $.40 a bushel, corn $.50 a bushel, soybean seed $2.00 a bushel, clover seed $10.00 a bushel, soybean and clover hay $10.00 a ton. The increases for all crops in the rotation were added together and the cost of liming, assumed to be $3.50 a ton, was deducted.

"For the purpose of plotting curves, the money values of returns were divided into: good returns, above $3.00 an acre per rotation; fair returns, $1.50 to $3.00 an acre per rotation; and poor returns, less than $1.50 an acre per rotation."

The accompanying illustration, furnished through the courtesy of Mr. Fleetwood, is a summary of his analysis of soils in this state, and illustrates how the soil of Nodaway County compares and the return for lime according to the amount of soluble calcium in O to seven inch layer.

It may be seen on this curve, that the Maryville soil is placed at "f" or fair, or soil having from 600 to 650 pounds of soluble calcium per acre. Soils having approximately 600 to 700 pounds have given a fair return, while soils having more than about 700 pounds have not given much return.

Savings in U. S. Up Half Million

Washington, Aug. 11.—Thrift made possible a half million dollar progress in the last year, the Federal Reserve Board announced today. Savings in 902 representative banks in the country showed an increase from July 1, 1924 to July 1, 1925 of $533 million dollars. The total savings reported up to July 7 was $983,373,000, making an increase of $129,649,000 so far this year.

Tax Cut of 400 Million Possible

Washington, Aug. 11.—While a tax cut of approximately 300 million dollars was considered certain by the next Congress, it may be possible to make the cut 400 million dollars, Senator Curtis, of Kansas, Republican leader in the Senate, said today. The large cut will depend largely, he said, on the possibility of getting through Congress a bill to consolidate several of the government bureaus and to combine their functions.

Harding Memorial Design Selected

Marion, Ohio, Aug. 11 (United Press).—The design for the massive granite mausoleum to serve at once as a memorial to and a permanent resting place for the late President Harding has been definitely decided upon.

The cornerstone will be laid next Memorial Day and it is planned to dedicate the structure on the following Memorial Day, 1927. The designers of the mausoleum are Eric Fisher Wood, Pittsburgh, and Henry Hornbostel, Philadelphia.

The mausoleum will be circular, eighty feet in diameter and forty-nine feet high. It will be encircled by two colonnades. The structure is to be Greek in style, Ionic interior and Doric exterior. There will be no roof.

The body of Mrs. Harding will be placed in the mausoleum with that of the dead president. At the head of the sarcophagi to be in the center of the circular cloister, a willow tree will be planted.

CHILDLESS HOMES

Read Mrs. Benedict's Letter Praising Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Kewanee, Illinois. — "When I was married about a year and a half I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound because of ill health. I did not have any children. I now have two healthy little girls and I am sure I would not have had them had it not been for your medicine. Last spring and summer I got all run-down, irregular, and I had awful headaches, and my back and side hurt me so that I could stay up only a short time. My limbs would get so tired and ache till I could cry. I started to take the Vegetable Compound again and used the Sanative Wash, and it was not long till I was relieved. Now I do all my own work and help others. I sure praise Lydia E. Pinkham's medicines to any one I meet that is suffering from similar troubles. I think if mothers with girls would give it to them when they come to womanhood it would make them stronger. People who have known me all my life are astonished to see me now as I was always sickly when in my 'teens and until I started taking the Vegetable Compound."—Mrs. MARY R. BENEDICT, 313 Payson Street, Kewanee, Illinois.

W. Burch's Hogs Command Top on St. Joe Market

Wyeth Burch, successful farmer and feeder of Nodaway County, was on the St. Joseph market Monday with three loads of hogs of the medium weight butcher class that were good enough to command the top price for the day, $13.80. The string averaged 211 pounds. The offerings were largely of the Poland China breed.

INVENT EIGHT MORE COLORS FOR FASHIONS

Manchester, Eng., Aug. 11.—British textile manufacturers and modistes, co-operating with dyers, have decided to add eight new colors to the spectrum for the Autumn fashions.

The new colors range from deep gold to cream and from mauve to green. Each has been given a distinctive name as follows:

Cedarwood is light brown, tinged with pink.

Burnt oak, a darker autumnal tint.

Veronese, a rich red.

Oriflamme, a full gold.

Vellum, a deep cream,

Nilesque, a green somewhere between eau-de-Nil and jade.

Amouretee, a derivative of cornflower blue.

Pavlova, a mauve named after the Russian dancer.

The new colors are now being used in the manufacture of silk, cotton, wool and linen.

It is interesting to speculate on what would have happened had this country devoted to the cause of temperance and control one-tenth the time, energy and money now spent on trying to enforce what passes for prohibition.—Detroit Free Press.

"Flea" Master Gives Parting Advice to His Brothers

At the close of the Battery Drill at the Armory last night, a Grand Session of the Royal Order of the Flea took place. Major Raynor, Past Grand Master of the Order, is leaving the city this week, and as this was to be his last meeting with the Order for some time, he desired to give all members the 4th Degree in order that the complete Work could be carried on after his departure.

Nine new members were given the first three Degrees, and these nine, with thirty-three other 3rd Degree Members, were then given the 4th Degree, admitting them to the "Circle of the Nights of the Round Table."

Every one of the forty-two was "dubbed" a "Night," in an appropriate manner, the titles ranging from Sir Old Saturday Night to Sir Mid-Night. The Work was put on by Sir Gwayne Night-Donald H. Berst, Sir Green Night-Theodore Search, Sir Pink Night-Sam England, and Sir Red Night Harold O'Banion.

Major Raynor now believes that the Order is well on the way to everlasting perpetuation in Maryville because the "Great Mantle of Grand Master" of the Order now graces the shoulders of Sir All Night-Edward V. Condon, who will be ably assisted by Sir Old Saturday Night-Kyle P. Phares, Sir Every Night-H. Frank Lawrence, Sir Horse Night-Kirtley Sears, Sir Bald Night-Stephen Donahue, Sir Bashful Night-James Partridge, Sir Long Night Paul Kissinger, Sir Mid-Night-Richard Holt, and Sir Any Night-Forrest Rinehart.

The last new member was also the latest recruit in the Battery, and he was christened Sir Short Night-Vodre Willoughby.

Major Raynor's parting counsel to the assembled "Nights" was as follows:

"Never forget that the basis of the Royal Order of the Flea is ECONOMY. This is the oldest fraternal organization in history. He who liveth not up to the Highest Traditions of the Order, may his Cerebellum fall out, and may he be Eternally Raised at the Game, for, Lo, he decayeth. SELAH."

"WINE" TO BE SHOWN AT ELECTRIC THEATRE

The spirit of youth in 1925 is the keynote of the companion portrayals of Clara Bow and Robert Agnew in "Wine," the all star special production which the Universal Pictures Corporation filmed from William MacHarg's published story of the same title. "Wine" will be shown soon in the Electric Theater, Wednesday and Thursday. Miss Bow is the typical modern, jazz-age flapper and Agnew is the masculine correspondent. Their advanced ideas concern everything which has an influence on the pursuit of pleasure. Myrtle Stedman, Huntley Gordon and Forrest Stanley also have important roles.

Missouri Losing "Show Me" Slogan

Suggestions Would Have Substitutes —Variety of Ideas Offered.

Jefferson City, Mo., Aug. 11.—Numerous suggestions have been received at the office of the State Board of Agriculture since Jewell Mayes, secretary, announced that the board was searching for a slogan "typical of the present day opportunities, practices and possibilities of Missouri."

Most of the preferred slagans have come from Missouri citizens, but the first to be opened by Secretary Mayes, was the product of a resident of Webster City, Ia. Officials of the board are scanning the slogans with interest in the expectation that a novel attractive slogan for the state will be uncovered.

A variety of ideas have appeared to date. Several contributors based their offerings on the adage, "I'm from Missouri and you have to show me." They opined that the "show me" days of Missouri were long passed and suggested and a reversal of the idea involved. "Missouri will show you" and "Come and see" were submitted as substitutes.

"Missouri never misses. "In Missouri we thrive" and "Missouri the paradise of the world" were among the early arrivals. One "mercenary" individual addressed a letter to the board, in which he said that money was most necessary "for the home, for the city, for the state, for the country and for the individual including myself." He contributed "Get the money. Get the money" as his idea for a slogan.

The Iowan, who offered to solve the Missouri slogan problem, harked back to the days when Harry Snodgrass, King of the Ivories, a Missouri convict, radiocasted piano music from State Radio Station WOS. The citizen from the state "where the tall corn grows" entered a "laugh-maker," entitled "Missouri—The state where ivory heads make ivory kings." He added, "If acceptable you may send me the reward."

A poem of three verses under the caption "The Best of the Best" was written by a St. Louis man.

EACH OF US OWNS A PET ECONOMY; WHAT'S YOURS? INQUIRES RUPERT HUGHES

Caesar had his Brutus, Charles the Second his Cromwell—and we, each and every one of us, have our Pet Economy. So, after a manner of speaking, says Rupert Hughes, the novelist, in this week's Liberty.

"Mine is rubber bands," says Hughes. "What is yours? Or, if you prefer, mine are rubber bands. Only, the rubber bands are not mine. They are other people's rubber bands which I steal, panhandle, or bootleg.

"A woman I am proud to know has led a life of the most devoted self-sacrifice for others. She has traveled across the continent to visit a lonely sister. Yet she has always been tormented with a craving for a pair of twenty-five cent tweezers and has never been able to rise to the prodigality.

"The game of golf has exposed many a soul to itself and its neighbors. A man whose boast at the office is that his time is worth five dollars a minute and who feels that he has been sandbagged and robbed if he is delayed ten seconds at the telephone or the elevator will squander a fortune of time and energy in looking for a lost golf ball or trying to get one more round out of a lump of shapelessness that looks as if it has been pried out of the fangs of a wolf and is as dead as an old piece of cheese.

"The picking up of pins has been sanctified into a matter of luck, and people who might otherwise be extravagant enough to pass a rusty pin will risk the breaking of far more expensive fastenings in order to salvage one from the sidewalk. The tendency to save matches and prolong their lives has brought on many a blistered thumb, and it is said to have been the matchmakers who started the superstition that it is disastrous to light three cigarettes from the same stick."

LEGISLATURE RAISES OWN PAY 100 PERCENT

Buenos Aires, (By mail to the United Press)—Annoyed by complaints of its inactivity the Legislature of the province of Santiago del Estero met, and proceeded to business.

The first business taken up by the Legislature was the salaries of its members, and such activity was shown that in a few days the salaries were increased just one hundred percent.

Every deputy of that province is to have in future four hundred pesos per month, just what a British member of parliament is paid.

London (By mail to the United Press)—England puts forward the Rev. E. A. Causton, M. A., vicar of Duffield, Derbyshire, as the tallest bonafide clergyman in the English-speaking world.

The Rev. Causton is 6 feet 8½ inches in his stocking feet. In the pulpit he towers 6 feet 9 1-4 inches.

Chicago Closing Grain Review.

Grain futures finished lower on the Board of Trade today.

Selling in wheat was instigated by bearish tones of the government report and disappointing cables.

Free commission house selling at the outset broke prices sharply. Shortly after, apearance of buying orders brought in full support and the market had a rally.

Failure of corn to respond to the bullish tone of the government report was attributed to weakness in wheat.

Oats selling was almost generally induced by the favorable government reviews.

Provisions met selling in response to weaker grains and hogs.

CATTLE STEADY TO LOWER. HOGS HIGHER.

Kansas City Stock Yards, August 10, 1925.—Fed cattle were steady, and best stockers and feeders were stronger, but most of the other classes were weak to lower. Receipts were the largest of the year. The volume of trade was large. Fed cattle were scarce. Choice heavies sold up to $14.50, and others at $14 to $14.50. Hog prices were up 15 to 25 cents. This advance was about half of the sharp decline that occurred last week after the market had reached the high point on Tuesday. Sheep and lambs were quoted off 25 cents, and at the lower prices trade was active.

Today's Receipts.

Receipts today were 36,000 cattle, 5,500 hogs, and 12,000 sheep, compared with 27,000 cattle, 7,000 hogs, and 8,000 sheep a week ago, and 24,325 cattle, 11,300 hogs, and 6,725 sheep a week ago.

Beef Cattle.

The best steers here today were from western Missouri and Kansas, and they had been fed corn on grass. They brought $13 to $14.50. Full fed steers would have brought $15.25 or better had they been available. Some Kansas wintered steers, topped off on grain brought $12 to $13.50, and the wintered straight grazed steers brought $10 to $11.75. These classes were in active demand and fully steady. Gross fat steers sold at $4.75 to $10. The better grades were steady and others 15 to 25 cents lower, except the kinds that carried enough quality to attract feeder competition, and they were steady. Cows and heifers were steady to 15 cents lower and in fairly active demand. Quality remains about the same as in preceding weeks. Veal calves were 50 cents lower, top $10.50. Bulls and stags were steady.

Stockers and Feeders.

Good to choice stockers and feeders were in active demand at strong prices. The plain and medium kinds sold slowly. The largest supplies of the season were available. Fleshy feeders continued to find a ready outlet.

Hogs.

Hog prices were 15 to 25 cents higher, and the market closed firm at the advance. The top price was $13.90, and bulk of sales $13.40 to $13.85. The light and medium weight grades sold at a premium over heavies, and light lights were in active demand. The top price went for 200 pound weights and choice 180 to 225 pound weights sold up to $13.85. The top for light lights was $13.80. Packing sows sold at $12.40 to $12.75, and stock hogs and pigs were the highest of the season at $12.75 to $13.50.

Sheep and Lambs.

Lambs were 25 cents lower and sheep were off only 10 to 15 cents, at the decline trade was active. Western lambs sold up to $15, and native lambs brought $14 to $14.65. Several bunches of fair breeding ewes brought $8.60 to $9 and feeding ewes $6.50. Feeding lambs are quoted at $13 to $14.25.

Horses and Mules.

Receipts of horses and mules is beginning to show an increase, and demand is improving. Prices are quoted strong. Fall inquiry is showing up.

CANYON'S WIERD CRY DEFIES EXPLANATION

Yosemite, Calif., Aug. 11 (United Press)—Yosemite's Lorelei defies discovery.

Hikers returning from Waterwheel Falls in the Tulomne Canyon, have reported a strange and weird call, repeated every few minutes. Some said the call sounded like a woman's voice.

Park naturalists decided there were no animals within its boundaries that could make such a cry.

Ranger Clyde Booth suggested that tree limbs rubbing together in the breeze might cause the sounds, but no one has been able to locate limbs in such a situation.

Imaginative hikers insist the calls come from a Lorelei, somewhere on the mountain peaks.

—to regain Strength

—brings joy to you and your friends.

EVERY man, woman and child wants to have strength and correct weight. It means the joy of living. To be minus strength and underweight often proves low fighting-power in the body. It often means you are minus nerve-power, minus red cells in your blood, minus health, minus vitality. It is serious to be minus, but the moment you increase the number of your red-blood-cells, you begin to become plus. That's why S.S.S., since 1826, has meant to thousands of underweight men and women a plus in their strength. Your body fills to the point of power, your flesh becomes firmer, the age lines that come from thinness disappear. You look younger, firmer, happier, and you feel it, too, all over your body.

More red-blood-cells! S.S.S. aids Nature in building them by the million! There are no unproven theories about S.S.S., the scientific results of each of its purely vegetable medicinal ingredients are admitted by authorities. Begin taking S.S.S. today. It will give you more energy, vitality and vigor and a more up and going appearance.

S. S. S. is sold at all good drug stores in two sizes. The larger size is more economical.

VILLISCA WINS SUNDAY

Maryville Is In Second Place—By Winning Sunday Local Golfers Will Tie for Leadership.

The last match to be played in the Iowa-Missouri Golf Association tournament for this season will be at the Maryville Country Club on Sunday, August 16. At this time the teams from Red Oak, Shenandoah and Corning, Ia., will come here to compete with the Maryville Country Club team. This is the postponed match that was scheduled for June 14 but had to be postponed on account of the weather and road conditions.

The last regular scheduled match was held last Sunday at Villisca, when Red Oak, Shenandoah and Corning competed there.

As a result of the match at Villisca Sunday, in which Villisca won three matches, this team went into third place. If Maryville can win the three matches Sunday the local club will then tie Red Oak for leadership in the M.-I. Golf Association. The results of the matches Sunday:

Team	Pars	Bogies	Strokes
Shenandoah	18	38	539
Red Oak	13	38	534
Corning	14	42	523
Villisca	25	52	494

The Shenandoah Sentinel-World Says in regard to the matches Sunday:

"Villisco won from Iowa-Missouri Golf Association leaders Sunday 3 to 0, and likewise took three point victories from Shenandoah and Corning. The matches were played on the Villisca course.

"Joy of Villisca with a 79 was low man. Villisca made 25 pars, 52 bogies and 494 strokes. Corning had 14 pars, 42 bogies and 523 strokes; Red Oak 13-38-534 and Shenandoah's score was 18-38-539.

"This game closes the regular schedule but Shenandoah will play at Maryville Sunday in a postponed game.

"A golf team representing the Southmoreland Country Club will go to Maryville Sunday where it will meet a team of Maryville golfers. Henry Read is captain of the team which will go to the Missouri City."

The latest standing of the teams in the league are computed as follows:

Association Standings.

Teams:	Played	Won	Lost	Pct.

Maryville	9	6	3	.666
Villisca	12	7	5	.583
Clarinda	11	6	5	.545
Shenandoah	10	5	5	.500
Corning	11	4	7	.382

Asserts Pepsin Is Best When Combined With Other Good Invigorators and in Liquid Form.

You can be so distressed with gas and fullness and bloating that you think your heart is going to stop beating.

Your stomach may be so distended that your breathing is short and gaspy.

You think perhaps you are suffocating.

You are dizzy and pray for quick relief—what's to be done?

Just one tablespoonful of Dare's Mentha-Pepsin and in ten minutes the gas disappears, the pressing on the heart ceases and you can breathe deep and naturally.

Oh! What blessed relief; but why not get rid of such attacks altogether? Why have chronic indigestion at all?

With this wonderful medicine you can banish indigestion or dyspepsia, catarrh of stomach or any abnormal condition that keeps the stomach in constant rebellion and one bottle will prove it.

And how happy you will be when your stomach is as good as new for then dizziness, nervousness, sleeplessness, headache, dull eyes and other ailments caused by a disordered stomach will disappear and you will be your old happy, contented self again. Koch Pharmacy and every regular pharmacist guarantees one bottle of Dare's Mentha-Pepsin to show the way to stomach comfort.

According to Forest Gillam, member of the golf tournament committee of the local Country Club, the information he has received from the board of directors of the Iowa-Missouri Golf Association tournament committee, is that a game won consists of winning two out of three points in any one match, that is two points out of pars, bogies and medal score. He is of the opinion that in case there is a tie for leadership the number of points won during the season may be computed to decide the leader.

F. P. Reuillard is the captain of the Maryville team for the matches this coming Sunday. The personnel of the team will be announced later in the week.

B Square Team Wins Close Contested Game

The B Square baseball team of Maryville emerged victors in a tight game played against Guilford's team. Holliday of the B Square team and Ham of Guilford were the moundsmen and each kept the hits well scattered. The final score was 3 to 2.

The score was tied at two each at end of the eighth but a series of hits coupled with fast base running won the game for the Maryville team.

R. R. Speed Records Claimed in America Doubted by England

London, Aug. 11 (United Press)—America's claim to train-speed supremacy is being contested by the British.

The famous old New York Central engine, No. 999—which is reputed to have once run at a speed of 112 miles an hour is now declared here to be a gross exaggeration. In fact such a speed is declared to be an impossibility by any steam engine, old or modern.

There seems to be no record of any speed by a steam engine materially in excess of 90 miles an hour, and not a single proved instance of a training ever having reached 100 miles an hour, according to British data.

The time tables of trains throughout the world show only 30 trains which average 60 miles an hour over any considerable distance. Twenty two of this number are in the United States, seven in England and one in France.

English Train Speeds.

But the American high speeds are made over relatively short distance—thirty miles and under at the stretch—while the high speed English trains are over distances of 60 miles and more. Five of England's fastest trains are on the Great Western Railroad. Of these five, two cover the 106.9 miles from London to Bath in daily trips at an average speed of 61.1 miles an hour. The 62 miles between Princes Risborough and Leamington is regularly covered in an even hours running.

Between London and Swindon there is also an exceptionally fast speed made, where the service maintains an average speed of just under 62 miles an hour including starts and stops. This necessitates a high speed between stations often of better than 66 miles an hour.

STEWART'S WASHINGTON LETTER
By Charles P. Stewart
NEA Service Writer.

Washington.—President Coolidge continues saying not one single word about a renomination in 1928.

He's too slick. His cue is to keep quiet and have a renomination forced on him.

This is being attended to all right by political fixers like Dave Mulvane and Congressman J. W. Taylor, Republican national committeemen from Kansas and Tennessee respectively.

They've been heard from already to the effect that he'll be by far the strongest candidate to succeed himself and intimating that he owes it to his party to make the run—because it surely can win with him and there'd be doubts about anybody else.

More politicians whom the president can depend on may be looked for confidently to express similar sentiments as time progresses, until there's a whole chorus of them.

If the president didn't like this kind of thing, he could stop it by saying so.

The Coolidge boosters undoubtedly would be correct in their estimate of his strength, if it were 1928 right now. But plenty of things can happen in three years.

There isn't much inspiration in President Coolidge. His political shop is popular, not because the voters are particularly thrilled by its proprietor, but because up to date, they've liked his goods.

However, the public taste in political goods changes. And seemingly Mr. Coolidge stocks only one kind—the ultra-conservative kind.

Ultra-conservatism's in style at present. It has been for the last eight (going on nine) years. That's a long time for one political style to last.

Yes, President Coolidge's 1928 prospect looks all right now, but whether it stays that way is largely a matter of pure luck—heads, ultra-conservatism lasts another three years; tails, some new whim comes in.

Luck! Coolidge has had a wonderful run of it ("Lucky Cal") but "the only sure thing about luck is that it's bound to change."

That's the thought that other politicians, who'd like a look-in themselves in 1928, are encouraging themselves with.

Women Bandits Are Accurate Shooters

St. Louis, Aug. 11.—Quick shooting women bandits made their advent in St. Louis overnight and today one man is in the hospital as a result of their accurate aim.

Two women entered the confectionery shop of James Shepherd, calling for ice cream cones. One asked Shepherd where he kept his money and he replied that he did not have any.

One of them drew a revolver, shot Shepherd and looted the cash register.

Spain May Get Gibraltar Fort

England Anxious to Trade Historic Stronghold for Spanish Town.

London, Aug. 11.—Recent investigation by air force officials of the possibilities of aerial defense of Gibraltar has revived talk of the probable exchange by Great Britain with Spain of the Rock of Gibraltar for the city of Ceuta, on the African shore of the Straits.

Modern weapons, it is believed, greatly discount the value of Gibraltar as a fortress and a secure base for the fleet. Modern howitzers firing from the Spanish mainland could easily prevent ships from entering the harbor.

Space is so restricted that taking off and landing by airplanes is difficult and the establishment of an effective aircraft base at Gibraltar is said to be almost impossible.

Ceuta, provided sufficient hinterland was included, would offer more favorable conditions for defense in time of war.

The possibility of a trade with Spain has been suggested before, but, while some English politicians vigorously demand the return of the Rock to Spain, there has never been any suggestion of giving Ceuta to Great Britain in return.

Those Englishmen who are suggesting the trade fail to point out why Spain should agree to give up Ceuta, which could be made into an effective stronghold, for Gibraltar, which is obsolete.
